Vasectomy operations

47. DR. ALLADI P. RAJKUMAR : Will the Minister of HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE be pleased to state:

(a) whether the number of vasectomy operations undertaken in the country continue to decline every year;

(b) whether it is a fact that apprehensions over post operation effects would disuade men from adopting family planning operations; and

(c) how population is proposed to be checked in the circumstances?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF HEALTH AND FAMILY WELFARE (SHRI A. RAJA): (a) The proportion of Vasectomy operations have gone down in last two decades to a low of 1.7% in 1997-98. This however, has increased to 2.4% in 2002-2003.

(b) No, Sir. The National Family Health Survey conducted in 1998-99 show that about two third of current non-users of contraceptives prefer female sterilisation.

(c) The Government of India is implementing various promotional and motivational measures:

An integrated and holistic programme for Reproductive and Child Health and Contraception has been in operation. New measures of contraception-Copper T 380 A and Emergency contraception pills for women have been introduced.

Government has adopted a National Population Policy (NPP) in February 2002, which provides for an inter-sectoral agenda to bring about population stabilization, with Community involvement in administering family planning services.

Meeting the unmet needs of health infrastructure, health personnel and contraception and providing integrated service delivery for basic reproductive and child health care.

An Empowered Action Group has been constituted under the chairmanship of the Union health and Family Welfare Minister for focused attention on improving the coverage and outreach of services in demographically weaker eight states, including family planning services.

No Scalpel Vasectomy (NSV) method (without a cut or a stitch) of male sterilization has been introduced to promote male participation in family planning programme since 1997.
